SPECIAL COLLECTION OF OLD-FASHIONED PERENNIALS

The perennial garden is as fitting a setting for the modern home as it always has been for the old homestead in the country. Back in the Colonial days our great-grandmothers took much pride in their hardy gardens, sending across the sea to their former homes in England, France, or Holland for seeds and bulbs, with which to beautify their home gardens in the new world. As years rolled by fashions changed, perennial plants were neglected and tender hot-house plants, set out in formal designs were in vogue. But for several years there has been a steadily increasing interest in the reliable hardy favorites of the old-fashioned garden. Plants that come up year after year making larger clumps with more and more flowers as the plants grow stronger.

To all lovers of the old-fashioned garden I make the following offer:

51 HARDY PLANTS, POSTPAID, FOR $5.00
